April Reflection with Teacher!

Greetings! I am Teacher and I come forth to speak with you, awake beings who value Truth and Love and Light and Peace and… all that comprises the manner of living that you have chosen… long ago. You see, my dears, you have been continuing to choose a manner of residing incarnate that delivers to the earth those frequencies that nourish earth and also gives a hand, an open hand to those who are crying for relief. Yes, that is you and that is what you have been doing for lifetimes. And this is the lifetime where you get to feel fulfillment of your purpose. Yes, this one. So let's talk a bit about this lifetime, shall we?

Now you might say that you are in the thick of it with all the chaos and suffering that is occurring upon this great earth of yours. And you would be right. Yet there is, as you are well aware, something else occurring and it is the something else that you are a very large part of. What is the something else? It is the opening of portals that have been held secret in the earth, held secret until now. And why now? Why are they opening now? Here's the answer and also the answer of why you are now experiencing fulfillment of your purpose.

As the residing upon earth has taken a shift, so to speak, and more and more chaos continues to ignore the suffering, there are portals that open now because of just that. The contents of the avenues of the portals has been held in secret until there appears upon earth that chaos, the untruths perpetrated upon the innocent, and so much more. And how can the portals be opened and what flows forth? This.

The portals are opening when the chaos has reached a grand state of untruth and the flowing forth of truth begins more and more, remembering my dears, that the flowing forth of Truth is a frequency and that frequency is flowing forth now from many chambers hidden in the earth, chambers that have been hidden for thousands of years. And the reason that they can open is your presence and your holding to truth, to love, to peace and to those frequencies that give to you a manner of residing that fulfills your purpose.

You see, it is not an accident that you are present here upon earth now. It is not an accident that your purpose holds Truth incarnate. You see, Truth incarnate through you means that you are residing in a human vessel and you are able to continue to reside whilst holding the highest frequency incarnate. The highest frequency, my dears, is your innocence of being. And your innocence of being rests upon peace.

You see, when there is a foundation of fear and then the belief in separation form the whole which fear promotes, then the beautiful innocence of being recedes. Yet here you are and your innocence of being is right up front, so to speak. It is right up front so that your foundation rests upon that sweetness. And it all comes together, so to speak, because you have determined that you would remain incarnate, that you would continue to hold truth, the frequency of truth, as you step upon the earth and unite with earth's sweetness and radiating of truth from those portals that are now open. This is what could be called a saving grace for earth and for humanity.

Yes, there is a wondering if anything will be as paradise once again. And in truth, that is a good wondering. It is a good wondering because it calls forth those frequencies. You see? Even when you wonder if earth will ever be able to manifest her paradisal frequencies, you are calling them forth. And you call them forth because that frequency is already part of who you are. You are the paradise incarnate and you are breathing those frequencies forth. And in so doing, you are calling forth the same from earth.

Now in order for paradise to be made manifest by and upon earth, there would be the lessening of chaos and the causes of suffering of humanity. You might be thinking that isn't happening. But it is! It is, my dears. One breath at a time, one flowing from the hidden chambers within earth and the continued holding of who you are to your own beingness then creates. Creates! And what is created but truth, beauty and the presence of that which you hold dear.

This is a major time in the histories of humanity and in the histories of earth herself. You are right at the moment of a new era. A new era that begins with the emergence of the frequencies that you hold within your very beingness. The more that you expand your consciousness, the more that those frequencies can be held incarnate. When you expand your consciousness, then you are opening the portals within your beingness, within your spirit.

You might also be wondering why those frequencies have not presented themselves before. And the answer is that you must be able to hold them within your consciousness and remain incarnate. If you were to open all portals within your beingness, you would then in many instances release being incarnate... because, you see, you would then be what you call residing in Home. Then when you reside within your expanded consciousness, perhaps within meditation, perhaps practicing to hold that consciousness while you go about your day, then oh then, you hold the frequencies of truth while you remain incarnate. And that, my dear ones, is the fulfillment of your purpose.

As we have said, it is not an accident that you are here during these times. It is not an accident that you chose to be here at the beginning of a new era upon earth. It is not an accident that you are so beautiful, that your spirit is so very lovely, that you dare to refuse the invitations to enter into separation from the whole, and that you dare to know that all beings are one being, that all breath is one breath, and that your steppings are the steppings of Truth Incarnate. Yes, that is who you are, my dear ones.

All of the Universe is watching earth and those who hold the Light. They are sending support, radiating love and truth toward you to assist you in your fulfillment of purpose. All is well. All is well. All is well.

Now take a deep breath and rest from that which is called anxiety. Anxiety births fear and you have no reason to fear, my dears. You are Innocence of Being! Let yourself be present for yourself and all is benefited. I, Teacher, say that you are the treasure of the earth. Do you see?

I am most pleased to have this opportunity to speak with you, to remind you of your own beauty and strength, strength in truth itself.

Breathe deeply of this Truth, my dears, and give to yourself peace. Go to nature and allow nature to nourish your spirit. You are not alone. Of course you know that, yet a reminder at times tends to be an uplifting feeling. I give that to you and much more.

Then until we speak again, I am Teacher and I speak the words so be it. Perhaps we will speak them together.

So be it.
